ABSTRACT

This annotated bibliography of supplementary adult literacy materials was designed to enhance the existing literacy program being offered at the Mississippi State Penitentiary in Parchman, Mississippi. The annotations are arranged in the following 20 categories: automobiles; biography; communication skills; consumer information; coping skills; crafts; English as a second language; fiction; general education development; health, education, and safety; history and government; job skills; large print; mathematics; money management; readalongs; readers; religion; science; and tutor. In addition to being listed in their separate categories, the large print materials and readalongs (books accompanied by at least one audiocassette) are also included in the categories appropriate to their individual subjects. Within categories, the materials are listed alphabetically by author's last name. The annotations typically include the international standard book number, price, a brief description of the contents, the reading level as furnished by the publisher or distributor, and the call number or accession number, in addition to the usual bibliographic facts. The last page contains the names, addresses, and phone numbers of publishers and distributors of the materials. (CML)

Through a Library Services and Construction Act Title VI (Library Literacy Program) grant from the U. S. Department of Education, the Mississippi Library Commission purchased, processed, and placed supplementary adult literacy materials at the Mississippi State Penitentiary, Parchman, Mississippi. This collection was designed to enhance the existing literacy program being offered at this correctional institution.

Included in this collection of books and readalongs (books accompanied by audiocassettes) are materials on coping skills and job skills. GED preparation and recreational reading materials are also contained in the collection.

The Library Commission is making this bibliography available to public libraries, institution libraries, and literacy providers to let you see the myriad types of materials that are available to expand and compliment students' formal literacy learning experiences.

This publication was partially funded by the Library Services and Construction Act administered by the Mississippi Library Commission.

ARRANGEMENT OF BIBLIOGRAPHY

This bibliography of adult literacy materials is arranged in 20 different subject categories. Besides being included under appropriate subject categories, large print (for the visually impaired) and readalong (book accompanied by audiocassette) materials are listed separately for easy identification.

Within all categories, the entries are arranged alphabetically by author and then by title. For each entry listed under a subject category, the following information may be found:

Title. Author or authors. Pagination or number of volumes. City and state of publication: Publisher and/or distributor. Copyright date. Series statement. Audiovisual materials in readalong set. International Standard Book Number. Price.
Annotation or brief description of contents. Reading level as furnished by publisher or distributor.
Call number for books or accession number for read-alongs.

Information for contacting the various publishers and distributors can be found on page 129 of this bibliography.
